Sunday Reflection

The readings of this Sunday continues the theme of prayer. In a society where money brings power, and where injustice can be smoothed over by bribery, the poor person's situation is pretty hopeless. Without money and influence, the poor can't get legal redress when they are wronged and so are often forced to accept unfair treatment from the better off. But God is a just judge. He shows no partiality to the rich or the powerful. He listens to the prayer of the humble and the lowly. The parable of the Pharisee and the tax collector makes the same point even more forcefully. It brings together the righteous one and the outcast, and it is the latter who comes out best.

Prayer to St. Jude Thaddeus

(Feast day on 28 October 2022)

Most holy Apostle, St. Jude, faithful servant and friend of Jesus, the Church honours and invokes you universally, as the patron of difficult cases, of things almost despaired of, pray for me, I am so helpless and alone. Intercede with God for me that He bring visible and speedy help where help is almost despaired of. Come to my assistance in this great need that I may receive the consolation and help of heaven in all my necessities, tribulations, and sufferings, particularly – (Make your request here) – and that I may praise God with you and all the saints forever. I promise, O Blessed St. Jude, to be ever mindful of this great favour granted me by God and to always honour you as my special and powerful patron, and to gratefully encourage devotion to you.

Amen
